

Please join me in welcoming Lori Alameda on her appointment as Chief Financial Officer, Senior Vice President.

Lori Alameda

Lori has joined WellLife Network as Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer. In this role, she will collaborate with the CEO and President in strategic planning, budget analysis and forecasting for WellLife Network, affiliate organizations and potential new business ventures. Working closely with program management and funders, she will monitor program revenue and expenditure versus plan on a monthly and annual basis; communicate budgets and variances from plan and assist programs in meeting targets and developing plans for improvement; generate reports and key metrics. Ms. Alameda will also closely collaborate with the Controller and Budget Director in review and analysis of the monthly financial reporting process and participate in quarterly Board of Director's meetings with the presentation of the financial results.

Ms. Alameda will also oversee IT Services and the Procurement Department.

Lori is a Queens College alumna and brings 20 years of valuable experience to our agency. She has extensive finance and business strategy experience in the health and human services field. Lori worked at BDO USA, LLP, in the New York Metro Area where she played an indispensable role as Assurance Director in the Healthcare and Not-for-Profit Services Group. Ms. Alameda specialized in audits of organizations funded by OPWDD, SED, OMH, DOH, OCFS and HUD and in cost reports.

Lori will be based at our Executive Offices in Flushing and can be contacted at:
