

WellLife Network Salutes Its Social Workers

“Our social workers provide critical ‘front line’ services in helping our program participants cope with their challenges more effectively. Thank you for being a guiding light to persons most in need.”

Shavone Hamilton, LCSW, Chief Operating Officer, WellLife Network

We join the National Association of Social Workers in celebrating March as Social Work month. This celebration provides WellLife Network with the unique opportunity to recognize and highlight the important contributions social workers make to our agency and society.

The 2017 Social Work Month theme – Social Workers Stand Up! – celebrates all social workers who stand up for millions of people each day. They stand up by comforting people who are experiencing devastating illnesses and mental health crises, ensuring they get the best care while on the road to recovery. They stand up and support our brave military personnel, veterans and their families. They work in communities to provide services and pass legislation to stand with and help the most vulnerable.

WellLife Network employs some 63 social workers, both direct service and clinical. These talented individuals help more than 5,500 people each day solve and cope with problems in their lives. Our clinical social workers, who diagnose and treat mental, behavioral, and emotional issues, assist many populations: youth, people with disabilities and those with addictions.

It is with deepest respect and gratitude that we salute our very own change agents – the WellLife Network social workers.
